2.4 Risk Disclosure

Investors must realize that all investments in mutual Funds and securities are subject to market risks. Our target return / dividend range cannot be guaranteed and it should be clearly understood that the portfolio of the Fund is subject to market price fluctuations and other risks inherent in all such investments.

2.4.1. Key risk factors affecting the price of Gold as an Asset Class:

- (1) Global Economy: Gold usually tends to do well during times of global economic slowdown, since it is considered a safe haven. Therefore, during times of economic boom, performance of gold can be lackluster. Further, historically gold prices have tended to follow a relatively long term cycle of 10 to 20 years, during which prices of gold have tended to display volatility in either direction
- (2) US Dollar: Gold prices are typically denominated in US dollars and this implies that the exposure gained from buying/selling gold is influenced by changes in the exchange rate of US dollars. Since Gold has often been associated as a safe store of value, strengthening of US dollar has historically resulted in decrease (generally) in the value of Gold.
- (3) Central Bank Buying/Selling: Central Banks are one of the major holders of Gold as a reserve asset. Thus, buying/selling of Gold by the Central Bank may affect its price.
- (4) Interest Rates: Increase in interest rates in the global markets (generally) tends to have downward pressure on the price of Gold, since opportunity cost of holding Gold increases.
- (5) Inflation: Decrease in inflationary pressures (globally) tends to drive people more towards other assets and hence affects the price of gold. During time of rising inflation, investors' real returns (inflation adjusted returns) are low, i.e. there is disincentive to hold asset in bond/cash because of low returns; thus, investors may prefer holding their assets in Gold.

2.4.2. Other Fund specific risks:

- (1) Risk due to Passive Management - The Fund is not actively managed and is non-diversified (owing to concentration of assets in a single asset class) and is subject to higher risk than diversified funds. Given that the fund is being passively managed, it will maintain minimum exposure of 70% in gold as specified in clause 2.1.1 regardless of the price performance (whether the price of gold goes down or up) or future investment outlook. The investors are advised to consider all the risk factors and in particular this risk aspect before investing in the fund and may also need to more actively monitor fund's performance to decide whether or not to remain invested in the fund. Further, an investment in physical gold contracts available at PMEX does not generate a stable stream of income for investors.
- (2) Availability of Precious Metal Risk: It is possible that the physical gold that MGF invests in, may at times be unavailable for purchase by the Fund. Depending on the investment objective of the Fund and the availability of physical gold, the Fund may not be able to achieve its investment objective of being invested in physical gold, as per limits specified in this Offering Document, until the physical gold becomes available.

(3) Government Regulation Risk - Government policies or regulations are more prevalent in some securities and financial instruments than in others. Funds that invest in such securities may be affected due to change in these regulations or policies, which directly or indirectly affect the structure of the security and/or in extreme cases a governmental or court order could restrain payment of capital, principal or income.

(4) Credit Risk - Credit Risk comprises Default Risk and Credit Spread Risk. Each can have negative impact on the value of the income and money market instruments including Sukuks etc:

a. Default Risk - The risk that the issuer of the security will not be able to pay the obligation, either on time or at all. Since PMEX is the “Central Counterparty” to all buyers/sellers, the buyers/sellers of Gold contracts are not directly exposed to any individual counterparty holding the other leg of the contract. The counterparty risk of default of any particular market participant is diversified across all buyers/sellers through this structure. In case of default by a buyer/seller to settle their contract obligation, the default management mechanism of PMEX shall come into play.

Any penalty received by the Fund in respect of PMEX’s default proceedings shall be used to cover the actual loss arise to the Fund, if any. The remaining portion shall be paid out as charity.

b. Credit Spread Risk - The risk that there may be an increase in the difference between the return/markup rate of any issuer's security and the return/markup rate of a risk free security. The difference between this return/mark up rates is called a "credit spread". Credit spreads are based on macroeconomic events in the domestic or global financial markets. An increase in credit spread will decrease the value of income and including money market instruments; The Credit Spread Risk is not applicable for Fund’s investment in Gold based contracts, since Gold is a universal Commodity and hence generally does not have any credit spread. In case of Fund’s investment apart from Gold contracts, it shall only be investing in near cash instruments as mentioned in Clause 2.1.1, ensuring minimum credit spread risk.

(5) Price Risk - The price risk is defined as when the value of the Fund, due to its holdings in such securities rises and falls as a result of factors mentioned in clause 2.4.1. To reduce the impact of price risk, the Management Company will invest in cash and near cash instruments as mentioned in Clause 2.1.1 that provide a stable rate of return. Because of their short term nature, they are generally less sensitive to interest rate or macroeconomic changes.

(5) Liquidity Risk – Liquidity risk is the possibility of deterioration in the price of a security in the Fund when it is offered for sale in the secondary market. The Fund will be investing in deliverable Gold based contracts on PMEX, which has a market maker of international repute. The availability and commitment of the market maker reduces liquidity risk. The Fund will be investing in cash or near cash instruments as specified in 2.1.1. (iii) which are highly liquid in nature.

(6) Settlement Risk – At times, the Fund may encounter settlement risk in purchasing / investing and maturing / selling its investments which may affect the Fund’s performance etc. All contracts listed on PMEX are guaranteed by PMEX itself, hence ensuring minimum settlement risk. The Fund may also invest in International Gold based deliverable ETFs or mutual funds, subject to Clause 2.1.1; which shall be liquid, have sizeable traded volume, and be listed on a major Commodity/International Stock Exchange; thus, ensuring minimum settlement risk.

- (7) Reinvestment Rate Risk – In a declining interest/ markup rate economic environment, there is a risk that maturing securities or coupon payments will be reinvested at lower rates, which shall reduce the return of the Fund compared to return earned in the preceding quarters.
- (8) Events Risk - There may be adjustments to the performance of the Fund due to events including but not limited to, natural calamities, market disruptions, mergers, nationalization, insolvency and changes in tax law.
- (9) Redemption Risk - There may be special circumstances in which the redemption of Units may be suspended or the redemption payment may not occur within six working days of receiving a request for redemption from the investor.
- (10) Loss, Damage or Restriction of Access to Precious Metals Risk - There is a risk that part of a Meezan Gold Fund's physical gold holdings could be lost, damaged or stolen, notwithstanding the handling of deliveries of bullion by and storage of bullion in the vaults. Also, access to Meezan Gold Fund's physical gold bullion could be restricted by natural events or human actions, etc. Any of these events may adversely affect the assets of the Fund and consequently, an investment in units of the Fund
- (11) Non-Hedging Strategy Risk – The Fund shall not hedge its holdings against decreases in the value of gold. A hedging strategy could put the Fund's assets at risk or could add to the Fund's expenses.
- (12) Specialization Risk - The Fund will invest primarily in physical gold available at PMEX and investors are advised to put a portion of their total portfolios in the Fund in order to achieve appropriate levels of diversification as per their own needs.
- (13) Operational Risk - The risk that is not inherent in financial, systematic or market-wide risk. It is the risk remaining after determining financing and systematic risk, and includes risks resulting from breakdowns in internal procedures, people and systems, etc.

Workers' Welfare Fund liability (WWF) may be applicable to the Fund. The Fund may or may not make provisions against this liability. For details investors are advised to refer to the latest Financial Statements of the Fund

- 2.4.3. There may be times when a portion of the investment portfolio of the Scheme is not compliant either with the investment policy or the minimum investment criteria of the assigned 'category'.
